BUSINESS MANAGER

I am a highly accomplished professional with expertise in successfully managing budgets, forecasts, schedules, and resources across global organizations. My objective is to pursue a role as a leader in a company that values financial management, risk controls, and performance metrics to run their business. My strategic approach to leadership brings a focus on creating a team that brings positive change with strong governance and controls in the day-to-day operations.

The graphic below shows my diverse professional history and extensive skills developed over time. Some of the roles I have performed are:

- Financial Business Manager for Finance & Risk Technology at Citigroup
- PMO Manager for Markets Change Management at RBS
- Financial Controller at both JPMorgan and Credit-Suisse
- Chief of Staff and Financial Manager at AIG
- Facilities Project Manager at Lutheran Medical Center (NYU)
- Construction Manager at Lehrer McGovern Bovis (e.g. Met Museum of Art)

My experience spans multiple industries from financial services, to construction (commercial, residential, and museum projects) and health care facilities. I have directed all aspects of project delivery including managing budgets, allocating resources, and providing risk and control functions. I have also managed my own company. You will find me easily adaptable to different environments and a team player that is dedicated to growth and success of all individuals as a whole. I look forward to speaking with you about how my qualifications will meet the current needs of your business.
